>>> 4. Foodie favorite Dena Marino resurfaces at the end of August with her very own MC Kitchen (4141 N.E. Second Ave., mckitchenmiami.com) in the old Fratelli Lyon space. On her menu? Homemade pastas and cheeses, and house-cured meats and sausages.

NEIGHBORHOOD

To say the M Design Dist transition mode is an understatement of gross proportions. The neighborhood is living up to the Soho vision of developer Craig Robins with new (and officially forthcoming) restaurants, showrooms and boutiques. Here's the lay of the land and the scoop on the newcomers. —Riki Altman & Michael Muzquiz architect Bruno Moinard was tapped to design the space. Inside? One-of-a-kind treasures in salons dedicated to high jewelry, watches, bridal baubles and accessories for both men and women. 2. Armani/Casa (10 N.E. 39th St., 305.573.4331) has lived up to tastemakers' expectations with 3,600 square feet of everything Giorgio home. >>> 3. At Coulisse (30 N.E. 39th St., 786.431.5539) window

And although we'll have to wait until December for this one, Hermès will preview its temporary store (on N.E. 40th Street near the Moore Space) with an art exhibition during Basel that's sure to be Art Fair Week's hot-ticket invite. Birkin and Kelly, here we come!

If the Shoe Fits

We're guessing The Webster liked its foray into mass-market retail. On the heels of its collaboration with Target, the boutique is now offering patrons a number of new select sneaker styles from the Soul Collection by Havaianas. "It's a fun spin on the traditional Havaianas," says Webster owner Laure Heriard Dubreuil, "and our clients always expect new and exclusive pieces." The damage? $58-$68—figures not often seen on Webster price tags. 1220 Collins Ave., Miami Beach, 305.674.7899, thewebstermiami.com —MM
