

The Bon Appétit Grub Crawl Finally Made its Way to Miami!

There is only one thing I love more than fashion and that's eating!!

I was on assignment on behalf of Condé Nast Style Society & I just had to share my AMAZING experience during the Miami Bon Appétit Grub Crawl with all of you.

The Bon Appétit Grub Crawl finally made its way to Miami to wrap up the last two of its nationwide events this year and this Miamian couldn't be happier!

On Nov. 2, the Grub Crawl came to an end in Miami's Design District where the day included stops at fine eateries such as Dena Marino's MC Kitchen, David Bracha's Oak Tavern Fine Food & Spirits, and Michael Schwartz's Harry's Italian Pizza Bar. There was also time for sampling the highest-quality ingredients at The Cypress Room, and Sugarcane.

That night, the eating fest continued in South Beach, with seafood at Sunny Oh's Juvia, pasta at Rec Room at the Gale Hotel, and the delectableness of Bianca at the Delano. Food lovers also indulged themselves at Pubbelly and what better way to enjoy all these yummy bites than to pair them with specialty drinks, wine pairings and my favorite, champagne!

Ready to make your belly rumble??? Below I have provided some images courtesy of photographer, Max Reed. And yes, I went as far as to include the featured menus from some of the restaurants. 😊

MC Kitchen

Food

Black Mission Fig Pizzetta – Cippolini marmalade, parma prosciutto, Fontina cheese, arugula, saba vinaigrette

Roasted Pear and Cheese Focchi – robiolo, grana padano, ricotta, tellagio, white truffle

Beverages

Cheating At Solitaire

Dogfish Head Chateau jhah, Seagram's ginger ale

Don't Think Twice

Dogfish Head Theobroma, Seagram's ginger ale