

Orlando®

s Magazine

MIAMI

miamiandbeaches.com

Deco Buildings on Ocean Drive

Shopping on Lincoln Road

Miami Seaquarium

MC Kitchen: In Miami's trendy Design District, this Italian-influenced eatery emphasizes seasonal cuisine. The menu changes quarterly, but there are always stone-oven baked pizzas and bruschetta, pasta dishes, and fresh fish and meat selections.

strung along a broad band of sandy beach make this part of Miami a must-see. Get to the Art Deco Gift Shop on Ocean Drive by 10:30 a.m. any day for the official walking tour; it's $20 for you, $15 for your student.

Miami Seaquarium: This granddaddy of marine parks, established in 1955, was the site of the television pilot for the 1960s classic, "Flipper." Today, the park offers educational and entertaining programs spotlighting marine biology, the oceans and marine animals. There's also a ropes course and an underwater helmet diving adventure that allows visitors to explore the 300,000-gallon reef aquarium.

Vizcaya Museum & Gardens: A National Historic Landmark, Vizcaya was built as a private home in the early 20th century by agricultural industrialist James Deering. Today, the stunning waterfront mansion and landscaped gardens feature an impressive art collection and an orchidarium with a variety of exotic plants.

Marlins Park: The retractable roof of the new 37,000-seat Major League Baseball stadium shields spectators from the blazing sun and

Raw Bar
Midtown di hurricane. Tapa large plates run the
to Latin and Asian s wrapped dates ($11
succulent.

MC Kitchen: In M
District, this Italianphases seasonal cuis
es quarterly, but there
baked pizzas and br
and fresh fish and me

MC Kitchen

13
G

STAR
RS
ION

