The Hot List The Sexiest Tables in Town

Common Valentine's Day misconception: it's the thought that counts. Not true. It's the dinner reservation that counts. Below, the five sexiest tables for the sexiest holiday of the year. (Well, depending on how you feel about Arbor Day.)

Table #31, MC Kitchen

You Require: Cold cuts (the fancy kind) and a comfortable place to sit.

You'll Receive: Plates of house-cured bresaola and handmade cheese from an Iron Chef alum. Brought over to a cozy corner booth with blue mohair upholstery. Yup, that would qualify as comfortable.
